

EF Pathway Programs

Direct access to a top-ranked U.S. Master degree program in International Business, International Marketing, International Banking, Finance, Business Statistics, or Disruptive Innovation.

Who is this for?

EF Pathway Programs are for university graduates who would like a fast-track to graduate-level studies. Successful graduates of EF's Pathway Program enjoy direct access to Hult International Business School's one-year Master degree programs.

A personalized program

EF's dedicated approach to business school preparation means that your program can be personalized to meet your unique language and academic needs. EF will help you meet and exceed Hult's language entrance requirements through intensive preparation courses, and you'll benefit from a wide range of specialist academic modules—elective courses that focus on academic subjects. Choose to study at an EF school in a number of world-class locations.

With you all the way

While studying on an EF Pathway Program, you can be confident that you'll receive mentorship and instruction from fully certified faculty and staff. All students will have access to an EF University Pathway Manager, who will ensure they are on track to successfully completing the program, from achieving the language proficiency requirement to completing the GMAT (if needed).

Direct progression to a top-ranked degree program at Hult International Business School

As long as students meet the EF Pathway entry requirements and confirm that they will join the dual program, they will receive conditional acceptance to Hult International Business School. Before starting a Hult Master degree, students will have to meet the Pathway Program final test requirements. Set your expectations high and prepare yourself for a top-ranked U.S. degree program.

No TOEFL or IELTS required

Before being accepted onto the EF Pathway Program, applicants will have to complete EF's assessment test. Successful completion of the program allows students to join Hult without having to pass any further language tests. Please note that some students (depending on their nationality) may still be required to take an IELTS test in order to secure a visa for the U.K.

Experience the Hult way during your Pathway

During the program, you will regularly participate in classes using simulation techniques similar to those used at Hult International Business School. These classes will give you a chance to get a better feel for Hult, and teach you how to work in teams, competing with other Pathway students. These sessions will also enable you to ask any questions you have about the Hult curriculum.

Hult International Business School

The world's only truly global business school

Hult's compelling vision of a practical and global business education has attracted students from around the world. Today, Hult has grown to become the world's largest ranked graduate business school with an unparalleled campus network, international student body, and deep global connections. The school's growth demonstrates the tremendous demand for an innovative approach to business education.

Unrivaled global perspective

Today's global economy rewards people who can traverse borders, understand cultures, and operate in international contexts. Hult provides you with an unrivaled, intimate global experience, working alongside peers of 140 nationalities who collectively speak 105 languages, and learning from faculty with American, European, and emerging market expertise. Hult students graduate with the ability to thrive in international businesses and adapt rapidly to changing global environments.

Hult's unique Global Rotation Program—study in up to three cities in one year

Hult has campuses in Boston, San Francisco, London, Dubai, and rotation centers in New York, Shanghai, and Ashridge Estate-U.K. As part of the Hult's Global Rotation Program, you can pick your home campus and then spend up to three months studying at two others. Begin your degree program in Boston, then travel to Shanghai via London, or choose San Francisco and then travel to Dubai or New York. You'll get an inside look at the world's fastest-growing economies and examine international business practices close-up.

Hult International Business School is an independent affiliate of EF Education First.

U.S.-accredited degree

American-style graduate programs have long been the premier standard in business education. Hult International Business School is accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC). This means no matter where you decide to pursue your program with Hult, you will graduate with a U.S.-accredited degree.

Faculty with hands-on business experience

Unlike other research-oriented business schools, most of Hult's faculty have real-world experience. Many have worked for companies like McKinsey, Coca-Cola, and Credit Suisse, while others have run their own businesses or developed their own patents. Hult's professors have taught and worked in developed economies and emerging markets, providing you with a unique lens on international business.

Launch an international career

Ranked #1 for the "Diversity of Industries Recruiting Graduates" by The Economist, Hult puts you on the fast track to a global career. Dedicated Career Development professionals focus on helping you land a job and meet employers during your graduate degree studies. Hult's corporate network includes thousands of companies in more than 60 markets as well as an impressive global alumni network that will give you connections to last a lifetime.

Hult's One-Year Master Degree Programs

Master of Business Statistics

The U.S. demand for scientific graduates means Master of Business Statistics (MBS) students can receive up to a 3 year U.S. working visa (OPT) post studies. As the role of big data becomes increasingly important, Hult's MBS equips you with the analytical and business capability to translate data statistics and analysis into action.

Master of Finance

Hult's one-year Master of Finance (MFIN) equips you with the foundation necessary to tackle the complex world of corporate financial management. Learn both the language of business and the tactical financial skills needed to make an impact in international accounting and corporate finance.

Master of International Marketing

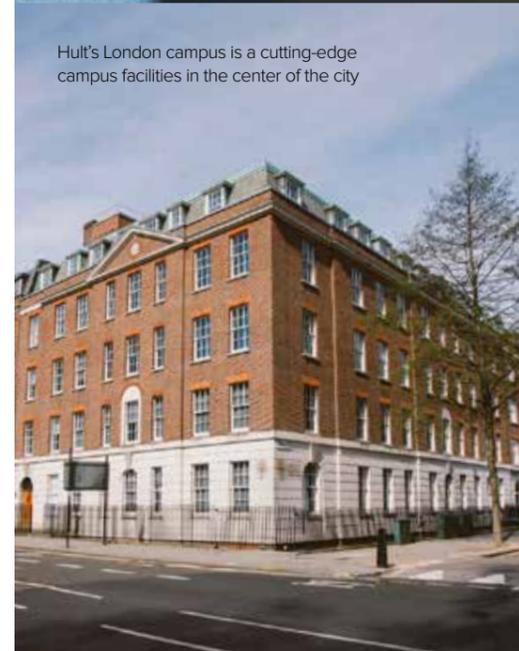

Clever marketing drives brand loyalty, product longevity, and profit. As companies look to differentiate their offerings in a global marketplace, Hult's one-year Master of International Marketing (MIM) degree equips you with the strategic and executional marketing skills needed to stand out.

Master of International Banking

Hult's Master of International Banking (MAB) program offers a rigorous education in the structure and functioning of capital and financial markets. It is designed as a springboard for students wishing to forge a career in international banking and finance.

Master of Disruptive Innovation

Disruption and innovation impact all areas of the workforce and fundamentally changes how businesses grow. As companies race to innovate in a shifting digital landscape, Hult's Master of Disruptive Innovation (MDI) will enable you to link successful business decisions with technological advancement.

Yi Yang Lin

Master of International Marketing

"I decided to take the EF Pathway Program because I wanted to familiarize myself with London before starting my Master degree at Hult San Francisco. I found the EF classes very helpful for my Master of International Business degree at Hult. I would say that the most important part of the course was my supportive and knowledgeable teachers. I have met friends from all over the world. Overall, I was delighted that I completed a university preparation course with EF."

EF Pre-Master Pathway Programs

Prepare for graduate studies with experts in education

EF Pathway Programs specialize in preparing students for postgraduate degrees with intensive language classes, study skills, and presentation training. Since 1965, EF has helped millions of international students to study abroad through language immersion and cultural exchange. With a team of dedicated teachers, staff, and the world's most cutting-edge technology, EF has been at the forefront of innovative learning.

University preparation experts

EF Pathway Programs provide a variety of courses which are specially designed to ensure overseas students enjoy a smooth progression on to undergraduate and graduate degree studies. EF Pathway Programs prepare students for the rigorous university environments in the U.K., U.S., and Canada by developing their advanced English and academic skills, and confidence in dealing with learning and cultural styles, while enhancing problem-solving and communication abilities in a second or further language.

Prepare to succeed

Your EF Pathway Program will enable you not only to progress directly to Hult International Business School but also to succeed when you get there. During your program you will:

- Attain an advanced level of English
- Prepare to take the GMAT (if required)
- Participate confidently in seminars
- Conduct presentations
- Undertake graduate-level research
- Successfully complete written assignments appropriate to graduate studies

Highly-relevant preparation courses available in stunning schools

EF Pathway Programs provide holistic training in core subjects relevant to a Master degree through classes, guided independent study, and a range of personalized and group activities. You can choose to study at EF's schools in Boston, San Francisco, New York, London, Oxford, or Cambridge and complete either a 6- or 9-month program depending on your level of English and academic objectives.

More than just a language course

During your program, you will take intensive GMAT preparation classes to help you maximize your score. You will also have the opportunity to study specialist modules or electives in order to deepen your knowledge of a specific subject area, or improve your English through the study of a subject which interests you. Students who successfully complete their preparation courses and pass EF's final language test with a satisfactory score will progress directly to Hult without the need for a further application or a TOEFL or IELTS* test. Students joining Hult's Master of Finance program will have to successfully pass their GMAT before entering the graduate program.

*Depending on the candidate's nationality, an IELTS test may be required to secure a visa for the U.K.

Certified and accredited

EF Pathway Programs have earned the approval and recognition of prestigious accreditation boards, universities, and educational associations worldwide. EF's International Language Centers are recognized by government-approved educational bodies, including EAQUALS, ACCET, and NEAS. Additionally, EF's schools in the U.K. are accredited by the Independent Schools Inspectorate and the British Council.

Francesco Scognamiglio

Master of International Business

"The EF Pathway Program helped me prepare for my life in university by helping me get a high score on my GMAT test. The program also gave me the chance to attend classes on topics such as business, English, debating, and slang; all of which were fundamental to improving my English skills. My goal in attending the program was to attend business school and now I can say that I have achieved that aim! I'm now studying for a Master of International Business at Hult's in San Francisco."
